

The blaugelb Universal Wood Screw Plus for faster and more effective screwing.

blaugelb Universal Wood Screw Plus

For ideal screwing indoors and outdoors or in damp rooms.

- Corrosion-resistant thanks to stainless steel A2
- Sliding coating allows the screw to be screwed in effortlessly
- For universal application, as it is available with full and partial thread
- Partial thread version also equipped with milling ribs and cutting point

Product features:

The blaugelb Universal Wood Screw Plus is used for the fast and easy connection of wood and wood elements indoors and outdoors or in damp rooms. The screw's high corrosion resistance stems from the stainless steel A2 used. The special sliding coating of the blaugelb Universal Wood Screw Plus considerably reduces the screw-in resistance and ensures faster turning in of the screw. The flat countersunk head minimises the risk of injury by evenly countersinking into the material.

The screw version with the partial thread also has milling ribs on the head and a cutting edge. The screw-in resistance is decreased by the cutting point, and splitting of the material is also prevented. The attached milling ribs render pre-countersinking unnecessary as the screw head mills into the wood itself.

Because of its characteristics, the full-thread version of the screw can also be used to fasten fitting components.

Product benefits:

- Corrosion-resistant thanks to stainless steel A2
- Sliding coating allows the screw to be screwed in effortlessly
- For universal application, as it is available with full and partial thread
- Partial thread version also equipped with milling ribs and cutting point
